

Camp Property Assessment Update

Dear Camp Network,

The Camp Property Advisory Group held its second meeting on March 30, 2021, and reviewed camp-related data that is crucial to understanding the current state of our camp properties and potential future impacts. The group analyzed data that included:

- membership trends and forecasts
- historic camp use statistics
- camp natural features and assets
- historic financial data, including deferred maintenance, revenue and expense trends for our camp properties

For additional information on what was covered in this meeting, you can review the March meeting minutes. February meeting minutes can be found here.

The staff Project Management Team, and key GSWW Board members and Finance Committee members, will spend the month of April processing our camp data, reviewing and updating our decision framework, and creating a camp comparison matrix. The Property Advisory Group will reconvene in May.

We expect to have final recommendations and decisions to share with everyone in summer 2021 with opportunities for member input throughout the process.

Background on the Camp Property Assessment Project

The Camp Property Advisory Group officially kicked off on February 11, 2021, as part of our Camp Property Assessment Project. Our Camp Property Assessment Project will result in a comprehensive review and analysis of data related to camp properties to inform recommendations for any changes that may be needed to our camp property portfolio. We want to be clear that the project is not a long-term goal planning session to generate ideas for future property use and funding, a program assessment, or a fundraising and capital campaign strategy. The project is a review of current and historical data around our camp properties that will inform changes we may make to our camp property sites.
